January 2012

Dear Parents and Carers,

You will be aware that the examination season is upon us and that your child is working hard, we hope, in school and at home, to achieve success. There is much that we are doing to support her/him.

On Monday 9th January, students will receive their mock examination results, presented in the same format as on the results day in August. We hope that for some students this will be a day of celebration that indicates they are moving towards the success they deserve. For some students, the results may well be disappointing; this should serve as a wake-up call highlighting what they need to do in order to achieve a different and improved outcome in August.

Led by Mr Bennett and the house teams, we have been tracking closely student progress in all subjects. As a result, we have identified specific intervention strategies to support individual students to achieve to their full potential. Your child is probably progressing well, on target in most if not all subjects and will not require support beyond that which s/he will receive from all our hard-working teachers.

In some cases we will contact you directly where your child has been identified for specific intervention strategies. We believe that a partnership, between you at home and ourselves in school, is the best way to support your child to achieve. I know that you will want to give that support and I hope that, together, we can help your child to achieve the best possible outcomes this summer.

Please do not hesitate to contact Mr Bennett, Mr Kelly or myself should you have concerns that you wish to share with us. The sooner we are aware of issues, the quicker we are able to respond. Thank you for your continued support.

Yours sincerely,

K. Harrison
